

Dine Out Against Hunger, October 14th

Dine Out Against Hunger supports the Omaha Food Bank. Participating restaurants will donate 10% of their profits from October 14th sales to the Omaha Food Bank. Last year just over $32,000 was donated to the food bank with your help. What makes it even easier... Sam & Louie's is a participating restaurant!! This makes for a great way to serve a great cause and join in for great conversation all while eating pizza.

Please join the Mustang Club at Sam & Louie's on Tuesday, October 14th for our monthly meeting, great pizza and support to the Omaha Food Bank!

Also check out other participating vendors at http://www.omahafoodbank.org/dineout/dineout_restaurants.htm

Meeting Minutes

9/9 @ 7:35

Treasurer's report - $553.00

Discussed Poker Run on Sept. 21st. for the kidney transplant.

Discussed the Christmas party. Looking for input on possibly going to another location. Also any other input is appreciated. Rob was not at the meeting so we will get with him on planning for this year.

A flyer was passed around for the Mustang Madness event at MidAmerica Motorplex.

Meeting was adjourned at 8:00.

Parental Controls on the 2010 Mustang??

Could the legendary Ford Mustang get a new bridle to harness its power in order to promote safe driving by those less responsible? It just might, if the program expands across the entire Ford fleet. Starting in the 2010 model year, Ford will roll out the MyKey feature for several of its automobiles. The key contains a computer chip that communicates with the on-board systems in order to control speed limitations (up to 80 mph), audio system volumes, and even more annoying "fasten seat belt" alerts. Think this sounds crazy? To most parents, who often equip their teen drivers with performance cars, the idea sounds fantastic. Right now, the concept is just a rumor for the 2010 Mustang, but if the popularity grows for the MyKey program, we could see this new bit used on future pony cars. Fine by us...just make sure we have at least one "dumb" key available for the weekend.

VOTE FOR THE WINNING MUSTANG MOVIE

Just over a month ago, we told you about a new video contest from Ford regarding a moviemaking contest about the Mustang. The partnership event, conducted by Ford and filmaka.com, compiled a collection of about 400 scripts and narrowed the mass to 22 which were produced into short films. Now the true test comes for the remaining 10 finalists: the Mustang enthusiast community vote. That's right--you get to help make the final call to determine who the grand prize winner is.

There is a website set up just for this occasion to view the films and cast your vote. Head over to www.filmaka.com/mustangnational5426378 and let your opinion be known! Ford will be watching coverage of this promotional event, so be sure to put in your two cents for who you think the winner should be. After the contest is over, we'll be sure to keep you posted on what video production took home the cup. Stay tuned! Ford Mustang | StangNet.com

Looking for a dependable ride to transport your dream?

Kansas City, MO October 2, 2008: On sale later this month, the new F-150 offers fuel economy that has improved an average of 8 percent across the entire lineup as a result of a wide-range of engineering enhancements. The fuel economy gains reach as high as 12 percent versus the prior model year on F-150 models equipped with the high-volume 3-valve, 5.4-liter V-8 engine. At the same time, the new F-150 delivers class-leading towing capability of 11,300 pounds and hauling capacity of 3,030 pounds – a combination no other competitor can match.

Ford invested $110 million in Kansas City Assembly Plant for new tooling and equipment to build the new F-150, which offers consumers the most cab styles, box options and trim levels.

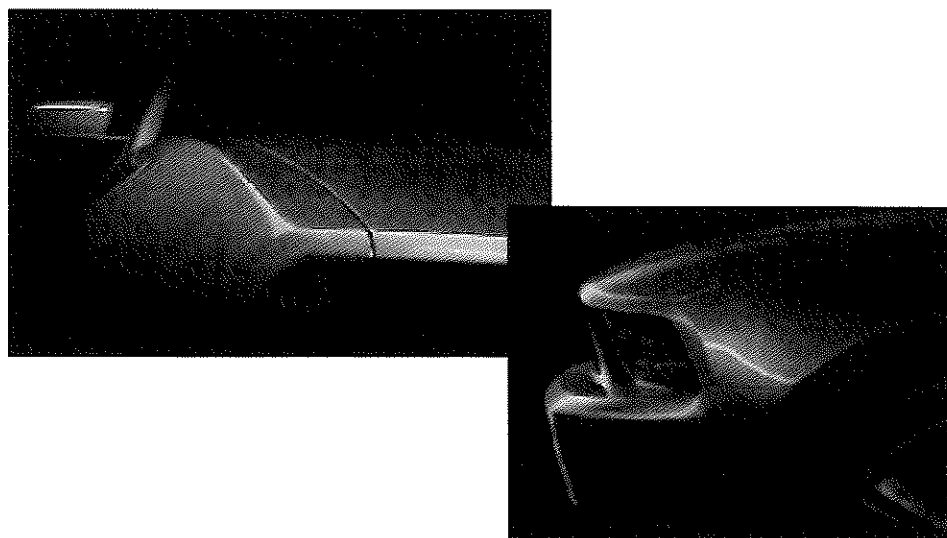

"The team at Kansas City Assembly Plant understands the importance of the F-150 to Ford," said Ken Ward, plant manager, Kansas City Assembly Plant. "They are proud to build Ford's most capable F-150 ever."

2010 Mustang Profile

10-02-08: Ford released its weekly glimpse of the 2010 Mustang as we lead up to the November 19th debut. The view of the front corner shows a slightly tipped in fender line that sort of mimics the look of the pronounced leading edge found in the vintage designs. Though, it is so mild you are likely to miss it. In fact, this view makes the profile seem more akin to a 1967 Camaro than a 1967 Mustang.

But alas, you can't decide the whole picture on such a small sliver right?

Jay Leno's Garage

How many Mustangs are parked in Jay's garage?

1. 1964 Shelby Cobra Daytona Coupe
2. Ford Shelby Mustang GT 500 KR
3. 1965 Shelby Mustang 350 GT
4. P-51 Mustang Fighter Plane

Okay the last one isn't a car. Jay has 90 vehicles in his garage no wonder he needs a 17,000 sq ft garage. His collection spans 100 years from the 1906 Baker electric car and 1906 Stanley Steamer to a 2006 Corvette.

Jay's most special car in his collection is the 1955 Buick. It was Jay's first car purchase which he even slept in at times while struggling to become a comic. He never sold this car and it became part of his obsession.
